NEW DEPUTY CHIEF NAMED TO SUNRISE FIRE-RESCUE

(SUNRISE, FL)- The Sunrise Fire-Rescue Department has a new Deputy Fire Chief. On Monday, February 19, Fire Chief Thomas DiBernardo announced the promotion of Todd Draizin to Deputy Fire Chief as part of the Department's three-year reorganization strategy to a dual Deputy Fire Chief Structure.

Draizin began his career with Sunrise Fire-Rescue in September 1986. Shortly after, he was assigned to the Special Operations Team. He was promoted to Driver Operator in 1993 and became a Captain in 2001. He had been serving as an Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Captain before being appointed as a Deputy Fire Chief.

"Throughout his career, Chief Draizin has excelled in every position he has held," said DiBernardo. "I am confident Chief Draizin will be an asset to the administration and executive staff."

In his role as EMS Captain, Draizin was instrumental in overseeing the administrative functions of the Department's Emergency Medical Services, and led Sunrise into full automation of the patient care reporting system.

Draizin received an Associate of Science degree in Emergency Medical Service and completed his bachelor's degree in 2009. He has also received his Fire Officer 1 Certificate.
